

Scott LaMar

Host and Executive Producer of The Spark

About Scott:

Scott LaMar has worked in both radio and television for more than four decades. He is currently the Host and Executive Producer of The Spark program on WITF 89.5 & 93.3 in Harrisburg, Pa.

Previously, LaMar was WITF TV's Sr. Public Affairs producer and produced the station's award-winning weekly public affairs TV program, Smart Talk.

In addition to his on-air duties, he has moderated political candidate debates, including those for candidates running for Pennsylvania governor and the U.S. Senate and has been a regular contributor to BBC World News.

LaMar often emcees or moderates local events and has gone as far as California to emcee a national event.

The American Society of Civil Engineers honored LaMar with their national Excellence in Journalism award in 2020. He has been nominated for five Mid-Atlantic Emmy Awards.

LaMar has been recognized throughout the Central Pennsylvania community including ADVOZ Lancaster's "Dignity in Dialogue Award", the South-Central Assembly's "Regional Citizen Award" and was named a "Humanitarian Hero" by The Humane Society of the United States/Pennsylvania.

A native of Coatesville, Pa., LaMar has also worked as a broadcast news anchor, sports play-by-play announcer and manager.
